STATE NEWS.

The Sun says the Tonopah Belmont will pay a ten cent dividend in July.

The concrete foundation for the new State Library building at Carson is completed.

It requires two cars for the transportation of express matter over the Tonopah road.

The Bonanza claims Tonopah is a law-abiding town—only three killings so far having been recorded.

Ore assaying $600 a ton is said to be slowing in the gold quartz group at Bullion, Lander county.

Silver Peak Post is the name of a weekly paper to be published at the town of that name in Esmeralda county.

Elko will have no school trustees election this year an account of the neglect of the old board to post notices.

Fitz-James McCarthy, better known as Fitz-Mac the newspaper writer, who passed through Eureka several weeks ago from White Pine County enroute to Salt Lake for medical treatment for an attack of erysipelas, has been critically ill at St. Mark's Hospital in that city. The Salt Lake Tribune of May 23 states that he had just passed the crisis and his recovery is now expected. While in the hospital it was necessary for him to undergo a painful operation in order to save his eye-sight.—Seattle.

Harry Miller, editor of the Leo (Kan) Indian, married Miss Elith Randolph a few days ago and the occasion being a society affair, Mr. Miller wrote this account of the event:

"The bride wore a beautiful dress of French lawn; at least that's what they all it was."

"The groom had a suit (and suit) wore the customary black-hand-me-down, and was about scared to death."

"There was no bridesmaid or best man because the groom did not think he could find a better one than him."

"Miss Randolph is a peach; most of her beauty is natural and she looks good to us as one of our school-mates and we know she can throw a brick with remarkable accuracy. A sample of her rare nerve is shown by her vowing to 'love, honor, etc.'"

"The other interested party is a joke; he came to Leona in the fall of '83 without clothes or money and is now free from all financial debt. There are others just as bad and they are not in the penitentiary either."

"Papa" was becoming impatient at the lateness of the hour when he remarked: "I can't see why this young fellow who is calling on Minnie hasn't sense enough to go home. It's near midnight." The little brother of the family just then came in, heard his father's remark and ventured some light: "He can't go, father. Sister's sitting on him."

To be charitable the editors of the state are blaming Elmer House with nothing worse than borrowing the following, which he, an old bachelor, recently wrote for the Topka Capital: "I suppose the Garden of Eden had its drawbacks, but the first thing that greeted old Adam's eyes when he awoke in the morning wasn't a comet hanging over a chair."

A Kansas editor who recently became the father of twins, is in doubt as to whether he should chronicle the visit of a visitor or an attack, by the work.

FROM OTHER PENS.

Bayonne, N. J., is to have women policemen. They will probably be armed with hatspins instead of clubs.

Now it is reported that Senator Burton will write a book. Does the man want to forfeit every bit of public sympathy he has thus far retained?

An English medical authority says fast auto-mobiling is intoxicating. Should a reckless chauffeur then be merely fined for being drunk and disorderly?

San Francisco, which used to have more saloons than any other American City, now has none at all, and everybody seems to like the change—except the saloon-keepers.

Nicholas Longworth says every man ought to get married. Lots of men have discovered that fact and acted upon it without waiting until they were 38 years old, as Nicholas did.

The Washington Post has discovered that so far nobody has called the chaplain of the Senate a liar. But there is no telling what would have happened if he had taken part in the rate bill debate.

However badly he may feel over the country's opposition to him, Senator Smoot must be keenly appreciative of the friendly interest which his colleagues show in permitting him to retain his seat.

The candidate for city dockmaster in Omaha is said to be worth $500,000, but he is hardly likely to throw his money to the dogs in an effort to land the job.

The new ten-cent postage stamp is to have the portrait of John Paul Jones. Isn't it likely to cause the great families of British and American to rise up and demand equal distinction?

An English novelist, H. C. Wells, has found much to admire in the United States. This is so unusual in an English novelist that it is worth setting down in the pages of fact.

The Russian Parliament is doubtless grateful to the Czar for getting it into existence, but it does not intend to allow its gratitude to interfere with its desire to sweep "the Lord's Anointed" off the throne.

Icelandic man who admitted he had four wives at the same time was fined $50 and sent to jail for thirty days. This may be cruel and extreme punishment, but bigamy must be suppressed, and if necessary the Cleveland judge will punish other offenders with a slap on the wrist in addition to the fine and jail sentence.

A humorist up north is trying to sell us a cash register.

The editor of a village newspaper is a door-mat for the whole community.

We print our paper Thursdays; everything of importance happens on Fridays. Running a country newspaper is like chasing an antelope—the longer you run the farther behind you get.

Notwithstanding the apparently universal impression to the contrary, the editor of this paper is always willing to accept cash on subscription.

Correspondents are respectfully requested to get their communications in by Wednesday noon of each week. We are always full Wednesday afternoon.

"What's all this stuff?" asked the managing editor. "Goo-goo, woo-woo-woo! What the deuce does it mean? Throw it out this morn'g." "But," exclaimed the society editor, who had just come in. "Heaven's man that's an exclusive interview with the new Van derfeller baby!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.
